Calvin Klein

CALVIN KLEIN WATCHES + JEWELRY

Calvin Klein Watch + Jewelry Co. Ltd. is one of the rare ambassadors of the Swiss watch industry in the fashion segment. In 1997, Calvin Klein and the Swatch Group merged their formidable talents to create, what is known as today, Calvin Klein watches + jewelry.

The clean, contemporary, graphic lines of watches such as Calvin Klein dress struck a chord with the public, and the new, inimitable “watch as fashion accessory” was born.

Today, more than 200 different Swiss made designs for both men and women are on the shelves in over 80 nations. Launched in 2004, Calvin Klein jewelry features clean lines and the characteristic curved metal surfaces that make for a sexy but simple design aesthetic.

Calvin Klein Jeans introduces watches and jewelry in 2006. The line of men’s and women’s watches is designed in keeping with the aesthetic of Calvin Klein Jeans, incorporating combinations of brushed stainless steel with denim canvas and vegetal tanned leathers, with jeans wear inspired buckles, straps, and stitching details.

Calvin Klein, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of PVH Corp. is one of the leading fashion design and marketing studios in the world. It designs and markets women’s and men’s designer collection apparel and a range of other products that are manufactured and marketed through an extensive network of licensing agreements and other arrangements worldwide.

Product lines under the various Calvin Klein brands include women’s dresses and suits, men’s dress furnishings and tailored clothing, men’s and women’s sportswear and bridge and collection apparel, golf apparel, jeanswear, underwear, fragrances, eyewear, women’s performance apparel, hosiery, socks, footwear, swimwear, jewelry, watches, outerwear, handbags, small leather goods, and home furnishings (including furniture).

important reminder:

The clue to a good merchandising is to highlight the new collection.

The customer should directly be able to see which are the new collection:

MATERIAL SPECIFICATIONS

STAINLESS STEEL

A high quality, non-oxidizing, hypoallergenic stainless steel 316L is used for Calvin Klein jewelry.

ENAMEL GRIP COATING

A rigid colored polymer hardened by thermal treatment.

GOLD PLATING/PVD

Gold Plating is an electrochemical process that deposits a gold metallic layer by electrolysis of a gold solution.

An alternative to gold plating, PVD (Physical Vapor Deposit) is a process whereby a base metal is coated with coloured titanium ceramic.

DIAMONDS

A brief review of the four key criteria used in assessing diamonds, with reference to those used for Calvin Klein jewelry:

CUT

Diamonds are cut and faceted to precise parameters to determine their shape, proportion, polish and brilliance.

The diamonds used for Calvin Klein jewelry are full-cut brilliant diamonds (there are 32 facets on the upper part of the stone and 24 facets on the lower part). A good cut is recognized by its light-handling qualities – maximum brilliance and dispersion of light through the diamond.

COLOUR

The colour of diamonds varies from colourless (highest quality) to many shades of yellow (less rare). The various gradations, from exceptional white to yellowish, are barely perceptible to the naked eye.

Wesselton (white) diamonds are used for Calvin Klein jewelry.

CLARITY

Diamonds are a natural substance, and no two diamonds are exactly alike. Nature signs each creation with telltale inclusions, or internal flaws. The clarity refers to the degree to which a diamond is free of such inclusions. The size and position of inclusions affect the clarity of a stone according to how visible they are at 10x.

The diamonds used for Calvin Klein jewelry are graded VS (very small inclusions) to SI (small inclusions).

CARAT WEIGHT

The weight – and therefore the size – of a diamond is measured and expressed in carats. One carat equals 0.2 grams.

The word “carat” comes from the ancient practice in India (where diamonds were first discovered and traded) of measuring diamond weights with the one thing in nature that is both small and the most consistent in weight – the carob seed. Thus the name “carat” evolved in the English language, which is still equivalent to approximately the weight of one carob bean.

The diamonds used for Calvin Klein jewelry range in weight from 0.005 to 0.155 carats.

SETTING

The setting of jewels in steel prepared mechanically makes it possible to produce large editions with perfect regularity and impeccable quality. It represents an alliance between the artisan and high technology.

Calvin Klein

MATERIAL SPECIFICATIONS

The jewel is first machined on a milling machine to bore residences perfectly adapted to diamonds diameter and prepare small pyramids (corns) which will be pushed back on the stone to set it.

The setter at his working place, poses the stones one by one then pushes down the corns one by one on the stone to finally "pearl" them to give them the round and shiny appearance of a pearl. Since steel is much harder than gold, the setter's work is more delicate and difficult. The setter must therefore perform the work using a great deal of force.

GLASS

Glass is coloured either by pigmentation or by coating the lower transparent surface.

Its specific structure enables high resistance to wear and corrosion.

Other materials such as leather, silk finish strings, lacquer or satin are occasionally used in ck jewelry collections.

CARE

Stainless steel Calvin Klein jewels can be polished to restore their original lustre. In order to guarantee its longevity, we nevertheless recommend that you handle it with great care and avoid hitting tinted glass against hard surfaces.

Please note that accessories like leather and textile bracelets can wear prematurely if regularly exposed to water.

Calvin Klein

Calvin Klein watch uses exclusively ETA SWISS MADE MECHANISMS

Generally, our watches are supplied with highly precise and battery powered quartz mechanisms.

Like every electronic device, the battery powered quartz mechanism requires very little maintenance other than periodic battery replacement.

Some limited-edition watches with mechanical movements have also been released on the market.

CASE

The case is the most prominent design feature that determines the design characteristics and the shape of a watch. Calvin Klein watch cases have very distinctive outlines and are immediately recognisable. They are exclusively made of hypoallergenic 316L stainless steel

CASEBACK

In order to better identify the product, the main characteristics of Calvin Klein watches are engraved on the caseback. These details include the Swiss Made mark, Calvin Klein logo, watch model number, the watch case water-resistance, etc.

Depending on watch design and model, the caseback may be locked by simply pressing it in or fixed with screws.

CROWN

The crown, or setting knob, usually at 3 o'clock, is used to change the watch time and/or day and date as well as wind up a mechanical watch movement. It is branded with a discreet "ck" icon.

DIALS AND HANDS

Dials and hands can be considered as the face of the timepiece.

This prominent decorative part of the watch is systematically identified with a swiss made mark and Calvin Klein logo. Calvin Klein watch offers a wide choice of dials in many different colours and designs. Recently diamond-set dials have been introduced to the ck watch collection.

Some hands are manufactured with SuperLuminova, a substance that absorbs energy when exposed to light and then glows in the dark.

BRACELET

The bangle bracelets on Calvin Klein watches are made of stainless steel. For certain models PVD surface treatment is also used as an alternative to gold plating.

STRAPS

Calvin Klein watchstraps are primarily made of calf leather. Calvin Klein straps have traditional pin or deployment buckles.

Calvin Klein watch bracelets and straps are very unique in design and normally carry discreet branding of the Calvin Klein logo on the clasp, the buckle and the leather inlay.

Calvin Klein

WATER-RESISTANCE

The majority of Calvin Klein watches are water-resistant up to 3 bar, occasionally 5 or 10 bar.

The indication of water-resistance means the watch does not require special attention when used in humid conditions. This convenient technical solution prevents perspiration and dust from entering the watchcase.

The standard value of water-resistance may not comply with an absolute immersion depth. Equivalent pressure may be exerted when diving into a swimming pool or taking a shower.

Water-resistance is not permanent. Age, salt, water, sand, dust, perspiration, temperature and many other factors may alter the characteristics of the components that ensure a watch's water-resistance.

Systematic seal replacement and a water-resistance test are required at each battery replacement or before significant periods of regular swimming. Only watches engraved with the words "water-resistant" on the caseback are protected from water entering the case.

IMPORTANT

A water-resistant watch is not a diving watch; therefore, in no case should it be used as a diving instrument.

Accessories like leather and textile straps can wear prematurely if regularly exposed to water.

We suggest choosing metal bracelets for customers planning to wear their watch for swimming.

Calvin Klein

REMOVING/REPLACING A BRACELET

The best position to use the spring bar tool is perpendicular to the end link spring bars. Remove the spring bar by pressing down (use the spring bar shoulder) one end with the "spring bar tool" fork (as shown in figure #1). Then to extract the spring bar, just apply an upward pressure to the bracelet or end link; this will help you to push the end link out of its position between the lugs. Proceed in the same manner for the other spring bar end (as shown in figure #2).

To reattach the bracelet, first position the end link between the lugs; using the "spring bar tool" fork, push one spring bar end into its specific hole. Next, press down on the opposite end and fit it into its hole. Check the bracelet is secure by pulling firmly to make sure that both end link spring bars and the clasp spring bar are firmly attached.

To attach a new bracelet, position the end link between lugs, place one end of the spring bar in the desired hole, then press down on the upper end and insert it into its hole.

Calvin Klein

REMOVING LINKS IN A "PIN AND TUBE" BRACELET

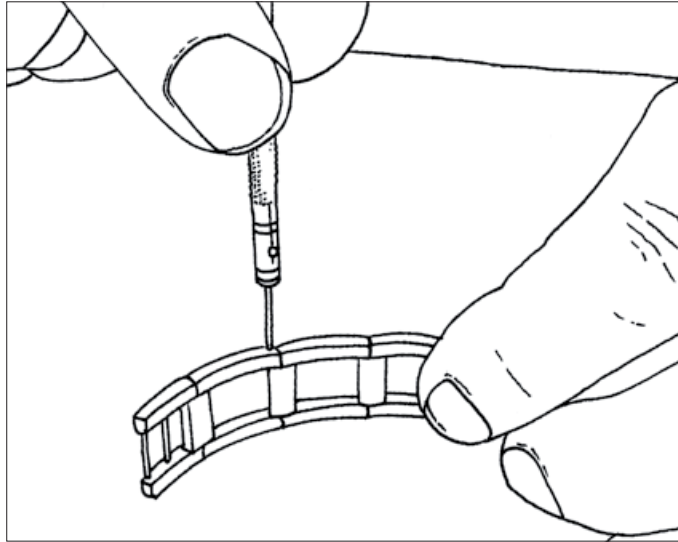

Using the pin pusher, remove the pin securing the link and pull the pin completely out of the bracelet link. Do not lose the tube when disassembling the links. To reassemble the links, re-insert the tube, assemble the links and then drive the pin in. You should feel and hear a little "click" when the pin slots into position.

Calvin Klein

REMOVING LINKS IN A "SCREW" BRACELET

Using the correct sized screwdriver, undo the screw anticlockwise until it comes free. Separate the links and shorten or lengthen the bracelet as desired. NB: Do not use too much force and pressure when replacing the screw as this could damage the screw head or thread.
